

Program Disclaimer and Liability Release

As evidenced by enrolling in a McCracken Alliance Program, participants agree to the following:

- Nothing is to be construed into the program that by participating in the program the participant will benefit in any direct or indirect manner which will make them more employable or able to achieve higher employment both now and in the future.
- We reserve the right, at our discretion, to modify, add, or remove portions of the program at any time.
- All materials made available in connection with this program, including but not limited to text, images, designs, audio, graphics, logo, software, and the like (collectively called the "materials") are owned or licensed by McCracken Alliance LLC (the "Company") or by the respective presenters in the program. All trademarks, service marks, and trade names are proprietary to the Company or the respective other presenters in the program. You may not copy, transmit, post, create derivative works from, or republish in any way whatsoever any materials from our Website or from handouts or presentations or otherwise acquired regarding the program without the prior written permission of the Company or, if materials have been provided by one of the program presenters, directly from such presenter. However, you may download or make one copy of the materials, and other downloadable items for personal, noncommercial use only, provided all copyright and other notices on the materials are left intact. Any modification or use of the materials for any other purpose is an infringement of the Company's, or the respective other program presenters, copyrights and other proprietary rights.
- The materials and content provided in connection with the program are not intended to be all inclusive and may omit critical information on any of the subjects covered in the program. The participant takes full responsibility to independently verify to his/her satisfaction any information or comments made and the Company will not be responsible in any way for any comments or materials delivered during the program sessions.
- McCracken Alliance LLC is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors. State board of accountancy have final authority on the acceptance of individual courses of CPE credit. Complaints regarding registered sponsors may be submitted to the National Registry of CPE Sponsors through its website: www.learningmarket.com. The Certificate of Completion may be presented to those participants who complete sufficient attendance in the program and if presented, is simply evidence that the participant has met the standard of participation established by the Company in its sole discretion. Participants agree to abide by the decision of the Company whether or not to issue a Certificate of Completion.
- Any advice, services, or offers that are expressed to you during, in connection with or external to the program and the program events, or made available by third parties to you, are those of the respective presenters and presenting organizations and are not the recommendations, suggestions or advice of the Company and are not to be associated with the Company, its officers, employees, independent contractors or otherwise. Under no circumstances shall the Company be liable for any loss, damage, or harm caused by a participant's reliance on any information obtained in connection with the program. It is the responsibility of each participant to independently evaluate the information, advice, or other content learned during or outside of the program.
- This disclaimer applies to Leading the Office of the CFO™, Leadership Finance® and any and all programs that are created, delivered or sponsored by McCracken Alliance LLC currently or that may be in the future.